

Dr. Isaac Kramer (Internal Medicine)

"I think it gives the best of two worlds, on one side it's the independence, on the other side, it's security. I think combining those two things give most physicians the opportunity to practice medicine, as it should be practiced."

Dr. Bruce Mintz (Internal Medicine)

"It allows us to feel like we're practicing the way we always practiced, but we have this mountain of people behind us. Those people are caring, they are concerned about us, they understand the dynamics of a rapidly changing world in terms of codes, and the way that organizations interface with hospitals. Being a part of Primary Care Partners has undoubtedly made me a better physician, in that it's allowed me to focus on the things I want to do most, and that's taking care of patients."

Dr. Laura Senator (Pediatrics)

"I would recommend it 100%. Between the innovation, support not only from other primary care doctors, but from Atlantic Health System, it's almost too good to be true. It's a fantastic, life changing can-do type of organization. If anybody has an idea about how to make things better for practicing primary care, it's going to be done."

Physician Governance

Primary Care Partners is physician owned and governed. At the practice level, members remain in charge of their employees, scheduling and revenue. At the corporate level, leadership positions focus on payor relations, membership and network development, finance, business optimization, and marketing and innovation. Our commitment is to keep physicians in charge and engaged both operationally and strategically.

Founded in 2011, Primary Care Partners, LLC, is a physician-owned and physician-governed group of primary care practices having strategic and management alliances with Atlantic Health System (www.atlantichealth.org).

Primary Care Partners helps physicians improve the quality of patient care, reduce operating costs, and to streamline health care delivery.

Family medicine, internal medicine and pediatric practices can benefit from clinical, financial, and operational integration. We offer management services that are designed to enhance profitability while giving physicians more time to spend with their patients and families.

In an increasingly complex health care environment, Primary Care Partners aims to optimize business processes with a strong commitment to best practices. With operational expertise and business management services, physicians can better serve their patients and respond to the regulatory requirements mandated by health care reform legislation.
